everyday theory shows students how to apply critical theories to their everyday lives in the process students gain confidence approaching material that can otherwise seem both alien and daunting this anthology's novel thematic organization provides students with a familiar topic or concept e.g. money, education, entertainment to use as a lens for viewing an unfamiliar topic or concept e.g. alterity, hegemony, the panopticon using issues that relate to students' daily lives allows them to create a context, make a connection or find an entry point for more abstract or theoretical ideas.

Understanding Contemporary Society: Theories of the Present is a comprehensive textbook to guide students through the complexities of social theory today. Over 30 chapters written by an international team of contributors demonstrate clearly the practical applications of social theory in making sense of the modern world. Students are both introduced to the most significant theories and guided through the major social developments which shape our lives. Key features of the book are clearly structured and readable prose, bullet pointed summaries and annotated further reading for each topic. Makes complex issues accessible to undergraduates. Focuses on relevance and practicality. Chapter lay out which is ideal for teaching and seminar readings.

The handbook will address a range of issues that have emerged out of recent social and political theory. It will focus on key themes as opposed to schools of thought or major theorists. Each chapter is an emerging cutting edge topic that is of interest both to social theory and to political theory. Most topics will have a clear and substantive focus on social or political problems.

Three sociologists from the University of Barcelona set out not the theories they like best but the ones that are most used and most referred to in contemporary sociological practice. They write primarily for students of sociology but also for social activists involved in daily struggle. Annotation c. 2003 Book News Inc., Portland, Or. Booknews.com

This volume reassesses the nature of the current global economic crisis and its implication for the 21st century through the unique lens of Marx's theory of the value form as the unconscious matrix of modern society. Going beyond orthodox Marxist and postmodernist accounts, the author offers fresh new readings of Marx, Benjamin Foucault and Žižek. Here he argues that capitalism has not only entered its greatest crisis since WWII but has in fact reached its historical limit and is in terminal decline. In this light the book seeks to answer how a rerun of Keynesian regulations could possibly resolve the crisis. It also inquires as to whether a Green New Deal might succeed when the gap between work to be had and work to be done widens and what alternatives neo-Marxian approaches offer. Considering the failure of Marxism in the 20th century, this far-reaching critical examination of the crisis not only builds on critical theory but also offers new readings of key theorists that will appeal to anyone interested in political theory critical theory and political economy
